Instruction for manuscript preparation (Potravinarstvo):

All scientific papers dealing with original results that meet the given criteria, will be published continuously in the scientific journal "Potravinarstvo" (1/2019). Journal is indexed in renowned databases. Instructions for the authors and template are available at www.potravinarstvo.com. Paper must be written in English, formatted and submitted by given instructions. Together with the manuscript, the author will send a self-assessment questionnaire as well. During submission, please insert into the note „Conference 2019“, the suggestion of two opponents, followed by their email addresses. Deadline for article submission into the system is February 10, 2019. Manuscripts submitted after this deadline will be charged according to the valid prices of the journal.

Instructions for preparing contributions in the Book of proceedings:
Papers must be written in Microsoft Word. Instructions and the formatted article template are available at: www.bezpecnostpotravin.sk (available after log in).

NOTE: Manuscripts for the journal and Book of proceedings, which will not meet instructions will be returned to the author for corrections. The organizers reserve the right to select the papers! Contributions should be sent only by e-mail.

Registration for the conference: You can sign up for a scientific conference with international participation only via electronic form available at the conference website: www.bezpecnostpotravin.sk. Registration starts at 20th of November 2018.
